

Meet The Juror

Marty Thomas

I am a classically trained artist who graduated from Herron School of Art in 1998. I spent my time at art school in the ceramic, printmaking and painting departments. My primary interest in art is the development of processes used to make objects. I'd consider myself a process artist with a focus in oil paint, and portrait painting in particular. I utilize a multi-layered painting technique using transparent paint and a mix of glazing and direct brushstroke application. I'm also fascinated with color theory. My palette is mixed with the intention of mimicking the naturalistic effect light has on objects. I have taught both ceramics and painting in non-degree seeking college programs.
